Be- 1 neath the western sky,, on the way to Sante 4 Fe,
I 5 met up with a round- 2m er, claimed he 1 rode with Jesse 4 James,
They 1 robbed the 5 Glendale 4 train,,, (STOP)

As we 1 crossed the Texas plain,, not a blessed word was 4 said
'Til 5 we reached Ama- 2m rillo, and he 1 raised his weary 4 head,
He said 1 Son I'll, 5 soon be 4 dead,

I 1 have so much to tell you, but I'm left so little 4 time
There's a 5 place out in the 2m badlands, a- 1 bout a two day 4 ride,
It's 1 not so 5 hard to 4 find,

5 Frank and Jesse hold up, in the 2m cave for forty 5 days
Took 5 all that they could carry, they 1 hid the 5 rest a- 4 way,
And 3m Frank grew tired of 4 livin', like a 1 dog out on the 5 run,
6m Jesse soon fell 7^b victim to a 2m blast from Bob Ford's 5 gun,
Now 4 I'm the 2m only 5 one,

INSTRUMENTAL: Same as INTRO

His 1 voice it faltered there, and he soon passed a- 4 way,
And I 5 laid him six feet 2m under, that 1 hard west Texas 4 clay
1 Then I, 5 rode a- 4 way,

I found 1 everything he told me, near a place they call Red 4 Cloud,
With the 5 gold I found a 2m letter, as I 1 read I cried out 4 loud,
It said your 1 mama 5 would be 4 proud,

Some 1 men are born to freedom, while others come to 4 fame,
5 Some will leave, with 2m nothing, but a 1 marker and their 4 name,
In the 1 end it's 5 all the 4 same,,,,,
