

Glendale Train - New Riders of the Purple Sage

Bluegrass Contemporary, Key of D My Key: ____

Well

CHORUS: 1 Somebody robbed, the Glendale train
This 4 mornin' at half past 1 nine
1 Somebody robbed, the Glendale train
And I 2 swear, I ain't 5 lyin'
They 1 made clean off with sixteen G's
And left 4 two men a-lyin' 1 cold
1 Somebody robbed, the Glendale train
And they 5 made off, with the 1 gold

Now 1 Charlie Jones was the engineer
He had, 4 twenty years on the 1 line
He 1 kissed his wife at the station gate
This 2 morning, at six thirty 5 five
1 Everything went fine, 'til 1 half past nine
When 4 Charlie, looked up and he 1 saw
There was 1 men on horses, men with guns
And 5 no sign, of the 1 law, and

CHORUS

TURNAROUND: 1 , 1 , 5 , 1

1 Amos White was the baggage man, and 4 dearly loved his 1 job
The 1 company, they rewarded him
With a 2 golden, watch and 5 fob
Well 1 Amos, he was a-markin' time
When the 4 door blew off his 1 car
They 1 found Amos White, in fifteen pieces, 5 Fifteen miles a- 1 part, and

CHORUS

I said 1 somebody robbed, the Glendale train
And they 5 made off, with the 1 gold
