INTRO: 1 4 , 1 , 1 , 5 , 4 , 1 , 1 5 , 1 , 1

1 Son you just found 4 out, about your 1 mother
That she 1 used to be a woman of the 5 wor-orld
4 Sit right here and I'll tell you a 1 story
How your 1 mother used to 5 be that kind of 1 girl

CHORUS:

I 4 met her, one winter in a 1 honky tonk
Begging 1 money, from a man she didn't 5 know-ow
I 4 married her as soon, as the 1 roses, were in bloom
But 1 son, that was 5 forty years a- 1 go

INSTRUMENTAL: Same as INTRO

1 Son your mother's 4 life was never 1 easy
At a 1 tender age, she-was put out on the 5 street
Don't 4 lay the blame on her, for 1 what she, has done
1 Sixteen year old 5 girl has got to 1 eat

CHORUS

INSTRUMENTAL but leave off the last measure

CHORUS

TURNAROUND: 1 4 , 1

But 1 son, that was 5 forty years a- 1 go, 1
