

Lonesome Standard Time - Larry Cordle

Bluegrass Contemporary, 1993, Key of D My Key: ____

Do you 1 feel, a kindred spirit, to the sound of pouring rain
 Does your 1 heart, start to yearnin', when you 5 hear, a distant train 7^b
 If you'd 1 like to take that train-and ride, to someone left be- 4 hind
 You don't 1 need, the wind to tell you
 You're on 5 lone,some stan,dard 1 time,
 Do you 1 sit alone, and think about, an old love from the past
 Do you 1 feel, a bit more empty, every 5 time you raise a glass 7^b
 If the 1 memory of her kisses, sends a shiver up your 4 spine
 You don't 1 need a watch to tell you
 You're on 5 lone,some stan,dard 1 time,

CHORUS:

Now when you 4 hear, them old sad songs
 Do you 1 hang on every word
 Do you 4 swear, a crying fiddle
 Is the 5 sweetest sound on earth 7^b
 If you 1 shudder, at the music, of a hoot owl in the 4 pines
 You're on 7^b lone,some 5 stan,dard 1 time

INSTRUMENTAL: 4 , 1 , 4 , 5
1 , 1 4 , 4 7^b , 5 1 , 1 , (extra two beats)

There's a 1 bigger clock a tickin', it crosses every zone
 The 1 first time your own heart broke
 Was the 5 time, you turned it on 7^b
 It don't 1 never, need a windin', 'cause if it works like 4 mine
 There 1 ain't no doubt about it
 You're on 5 lone,some stan,dard 1 time

CHORUS

If you 1 shudder, at the music of, a hoot owl in the 4 pines,
 You're on 7^b lone,some 5 stan,dard 1 time (etc.)

1 = D
4 = G
