

Flat Creek - Chris Jones

Bluegrass Contemporary, Key of G My Key: ____

INTRO: 1 , 4 , 1 , 4

By a 1 stream, too small to call a 4 river
There's a 1 place, too small to call a 4 town
For 4 some, just a dot, on the 5 roadmap
But for 4 me, it still is hallowed 5 ground
I 1 left, four years ago in 4 April
For a 1 job, I knew I had to 4 take
Now each 4 day, I stare out an office 5 window
Three 4 states, fifteen floors a- 5 way

CHORUS: The 1 factory, is 4 all that I 1 picture
2m When I close my 4 eyes, to 1 dream
A 5 few years a- 3 go, I was 6m young there 4
4 Can't believe how long ago that 5 seems

INSTRUMENTAL: 1 4 , 1 , 2m 4 , 1
5 3 , 6m 4 , 4 , 5

There's the 1 hall, where they held the local 4 gatherin's
That's 1 where, I first met her 4 eye
We held 4 hands, under the 5 table
While the 4 fiddlers played into the 5 night
Deep 1 down, I knew she'd find an- 4 other
Still it 1 didn't hurt to dream, just the 4 same
Now she's 4 got, a son and a 5 daughter
Some- 4 day, I'll get used-to-her last 5 name

CHORUS

5 3 , 6m 4 Can't believe how long ago that 5 seems 1 4 , 1 1
